

I hope you are keeping well.

I wanted to let you know we are hoping to deliver more parent training in Dungloe on Tuesday the 27th of February in the CDP between 11-12.30. Pass this on if you know of any families who would like to attend. It will be on the topic of, 'Autism, Learning Styles, and Visual Teaching Methods.' There is a synopsis of the content attached.

Thanks,
Finola

Autism, Learning Styles, and Visual Teaching Methods

This training session will provide information on supportive practices in the functional use of visual supports.

The focus of this course is in understanding the learning style, strengths, interests and needs of the autistic child and how these can be facilitated using visuals. This will assist those who support the child in the teaching of life skills, emotional regulation, and daily planning, creating opportunities for communication and independence.

Expected Outcomes

- Understand how the use of visuals can support the thinking and learning style of autistic child.
- Understand how the use of visuals can be generalised across all environments and can build on the learning experience in school, home, and the wider community.
- Learn how to develop visual supports in a practical manner to maximise the child's strengths and provide support if necessary.
- How to develop visuals and implement supportive visual practice.
